Pasadena, CA, June 29, 2018 – GreenSoft Technology, Inc., a leading provider of environmental compliance data services and software, has announced that GreenData Manager Escalation Manager (GDM-EM) is now available for wide release.

GDM-EM is a project management and collaboration tool to compliment Hosted GreenData Manager and GreenData Manager Browser Edition of GreenSoft Technology's award-winning GreenData Manager software and GreenSoft Technology's data collection and validation services. GDM-EM has been available to few selected customers for over a year, and is now available for wide release to all GDM customers with Hosted or Browser editions.

GDM-EM enables communication between the customer's engineers and GreenSoft Technology's engineers to manage escalated issues on the customer's product compliance project. Customers are able to plan, track and collaborate their compliance project.

Users of GDM-EM are able to manage communication and tasks, receive email notifications of new or resolved issues posted in GDM-EM, create workflow tokens, assign categories to escalated issues, create user assignments, save reference documents and assign them to escalated issues, and use bulk resolution functions for issues from the same category or manufacturer.

Larry Yen, President of GreenSoft Technology, says of GDM-EM: "GDM Escalation Manager promotes the completeness of data collection and speeds up the time for resolving escalated issues."

GDM-EM is a centralized cloud-based tool. It provides access for multiple concurrent users with secure login ID and password.
